A MEETING OF THE LICENSED CARMEN OF THE dity and county of New York was held at P. Garrick's Sixth Ward Hotel, corner of Centre and Duane streets, on Monday evening, June 29, 1835, for the purpose of petitioning the Mayor and Common Council for an increase of rate of cartage, and to correct abuses; also to abolish the law that now exists, nos to allow one man to own three horses and carts, to work for pay or hire. Furthermore, we are in favor of the old law, silowing each man one horse to work for pay or hire. Furthermore, we are opposed to merchants putting their sames on the side of other papile's carts, to free them of he law; these men, if they want to keep carts of their own, should come forward according to law and wear out he side over private number, apart men and the same of the side of their contributions.

ANOTHER TERRIBLE FIGHT IN THE SEVENTEENTH WARD—THE EFFECTS OF LIQUOR.

On Sunday evening, 19th instant, a large number of drupken rowdies and ruffians collected in Eleventh of drunken rowdies and ruffians collected in Eleventh street, near avenue A, and commenced a disturbance of a character such as has scarcely, if ever, been witnessed in our city. The following account of the affair was made yesterday, to the Chief of Police, by Capt. Hartt, of the Seventeenth ward. He says:—" This was the worst, as well as the largest street fight that has occurred in our district since my connection with the department. It took piace in and near Eleventh street and avenue A, in the following manner:-About 6% o'clock P. M., officer Kennedy, "he was on that post, sent word that there was trouble between the Mackerelville men and the Dry Dock boys, as they are each termed between whom there has always existed the most deadly and hostile feeling. Some six or eight men were at once sent to the scene of the deadly and hostile feeling. Some six or eight men were at once sent to the scene of the riot, but were driven back by the mob, who came down upon them with paving stones that were lying near in great numbers. I then immediately determined to bring our whole force upon the ground. Accordingly, Lieut. Stanford, the whole of the first platon, and a part of the second and myself, making in all some forty strong, ferthwith repaired to the scene of disorder. We thereformed in a solid body and took a firm stand on the ground. I then, with part of my force, attacked the mob, arresting those who appeared to be the ringleaders, and scattering the rest. In about an hour and a half, having made a great number of arrests, and the mob showing no disposition to assail us, I deemed it prudent to draw off four or five of my mee, thinking thereby to allay the excitement, and cause many to go away. But it was not so, and soon the officers were again assailed with stones. We were in readiness at the corner of Tenth street and avenue, and at once returned, and drove them before us in all directions. The flight becoming general we remained on the ground until sleven o'clock when quiet was restred. In execution, I feel called upon to speak a word in behalf of the men whom I had the hinor to cor mand. The mob numbered 600 or 700 strong, and yet our small force faltered not, but stood their ground firmly. If Travers, A. Clyde, Dennis Gallagher, Bernard Carr, and thirteen others, were arrested all of whem except two, were committed by Justice Wood, to await examination on charges of rictous and disorderly conduct and resisting the officers while in the discharge of their duty.

conduct and resisting the officers while in the discharge of their duty.

Arrest of More Counterfeiters.—Officers Elder and Wiley, of the Jeffer-con Market police court, succeeded in arresting a most notorious counterfeiter and State prison bird, named Hannihal Bonny, charged with being concerned with Canter and Shepard, who were arrested by officer Elder on Sanday, for passing $2 counterfeit bills, on the Bank of Hallowell, Maine. A man named Stephen Hopper was also arrested by the last named officer, charged with the same offence. Much credit, it is stated by Justice Stuart, before whom the prisoners were taken, is due to officer Elder, for the extraordinary exertion and tact diplayed by him in effecting the arrest of the above named parties all of whom are notoriously bad characters except the one last named.

Arrest of Hotel Thicess—On Sunday evening two well dressed young men put up at the St. Losis Motel, corner of Chambers and Church streets, enteriog their names on the register as Thomas Morrison and Charles Roberts; at about 3 o'clock in the morrison, Mr. John H. Perches, a boarder at the house, was awakened by hearing the creaking of the door of his room, and on getting up discovered that it had been entered by turning the key with a pair of nippers, and that his trunk had been taken from his vest pocket. When the robber left the room, Mr. Perches beard him go up stairs and enter a room (irectly over his own, and soon after acquaimed Mr. Pord, one of the proprietors, of what had occurred. The services of officers Jeffrey and Crow, of the Third ward police, were then procured, and they entered the room designated, which was occupied by the two young men above named whom they arrested. The room was then thoroughly searched, but no noney was found in it. Under the pillow of Morrison, however, they found two pairs of burglar's nippers, and in the windowsill another pair; one of these had evidently been used upon the key of the door of Mr. P.'s room, as it bore the marks of the nippers. The accused were ta

ANNIVERSARY OF QUEEN VICTORIA'L' ACCESSION TO THE ENGLISH THEONE—THE CELL'BRAFION ON BOARD-SALUTES, ETC., ETC.

Yesterday being the anniversary of the scool her Majesty, Queen Victoria, to the throne of the British Empire, the day was celebrated on board H. B. M. frigate Leander, with the ceremonies usual on such occasion At 8 A. M. the Leander crossed top pallant and royal yards, and dressed ship with flags, presenting quite a boilday appearance, the gay flags of every color and hue forming a striking contrast with the dark, black looking bull below, with its frowning rows of guns. A white flag with the red cross of St. George upon it, floated at the core royal mast, and a blue ensign at the mizzen; from the mainmast were suspended a red ensign and the royal ensign, with the union jack from the peak, at the bow.
In the absence of Lieutenant George St. Vincent King.
the commander of the frigate, who has accompanied Lord Ellesmere and family on a visit to the Falls of Niagara, the First Lieutenant, May, has taken the command on board. At 12 o'clock, M., the Leander fired a salute of the fire on the starboard side, and then firing on the other side, starboard and port, successively, until the above number of guns had been fired. During the time of firing the salute, the band belonging to the Leander played the national anthem of "God save the Queen." The salute was returned by another complimentary salute in honor of the occasion, with a similar number of guns from the battery on Governor's Island, and a like number of guns were fired from the United States line of battle ship North Carolina, now bying in the East River, opposite the dock yard. After the salute from Governor's Island, the Leander's band played our national airs of "Hail Columbia," and "Yaukee Doodle." With the ex-ception of the above, the day was not celebrated on board

Island, the Leander's band played our national airs of "Hail Columbia," and "Yankee Doodle." With the exception of the above, the day was not celebrated on board the Leander with any other ceremonies, and at evening the yards and figgs were hauled down. The Leander, which is a fifty gun frigate, earries twelve 68 pounders, there are likewise mounted on the upper seeks cost brass how tixer. 12-pounders, which belong to the launch. This latter boat is of very large size taking up a great deai of room on the dock, and is capable of holding three hundred pouls. It is prettily or namented on either side near the bow with a painting of the rose, this leand shamrock, entwined together, emblamatic of the three different countries, forming what is called the United Kingdom, viz.—England, Souland and Ireland, underneath is represented what is generally called a 'true lover's knot.' The above however, is the only ornament about it. The greatest neatness and order prevsil on board, without any apparent efforts at extreme discipline. Indeed, from what we saw, we should conclude that although strict discipline is preserved the martinet is abolished. We inspected the ship all through from the quarter deck to the cock tit. Near this latter are situated the arsonal and the bread room, both in reality containing the munitions of war, for, to quote the poet, Prior, who says:—

"And if I take Don Congreve right."

In this latter place are stored sight hunded begreated by the proportion of powder, we may calculate the later at several hundred weight. Overhead, on the same deck, are arrayed the cultasses, but a part of the lower tier guns were removed when the vessel was equipped to fit of the other distribution, and sixty tons of water. In addition to the crew, who are a healthy, good natured set of men, generally yourgefor we observed no very old salts among them—there is a company of marines from the Woolwich division, consisting of fifty two men under the command of Capitair Miller and Lieutenant Douglass. Their military look an sary, be it said to the shame of our city authorities, has been only furnished to the Leander on payment of one collar per too, and, in consequence, the crew have been limited in their supply the same as if at sea. It i enough hardship for those poor fellows to be cribbed up on board a ship, with the thermometer aimest at fever heat, and not allowed to go on shore without being stinted in fresh water. Considering the occasion for which the Leander bas come, and the character of the ship, it would have been more hospitable on the part of the Corporation to have given the captain a conteblanche for the amount of fresh water that he might require

To Colonel Remert Manros Harmson,
Consul for the United States, for the Island of Jamaica, and its dependencies.

We the undersigned merchants and others, inhabitants of Jamaica, avail ourselves of the opportunity afforded by your departure for your native country, to express our feelings of respect and regard, in which we are sure we are joined by all classes of the community, for your courteous and urbsine discharge of all the duties connected with the high position you have filled for almost a quarter of a century as Consul for the United States, in this island and its dependencies with so much honor to your self and satisfaction to all who have come into official intercourse with you.

of a centry, as Cossul for the United States in this island and its dependencies with so and the honor to your self and satisfaction to all who have come into official intercourse with you.

Those of us who have enjoyed the privilege of your personal acquaintance, beg you to accept also the assurance of our highest personal regard, and our deep regret that any interruption, however temporary, of our intercourse, should be rendered accessary, particularly on the ground of your impaired health; but which, we trust, your visit to your native country may, by the blessing of Providence, be the means of completely restoring and thus render your absence from your present sphere of usefulness, and from the society of your many friends, very short.

We cannot doubt that your laborious, faithful and realous discharge of the duties of your high office for so leng a period will meet a fitting acks gwledgment from the government of the United States, and we shall under all circumstances rejoice to hear of your welfare and happiness. We beg respectfully to tender our best white, for the beaith and happiness of your amiable lady, and our sincere hope that you may both shortly return to us in renewed health and strength, to resume the stations you have so long and so worthily filled.

TO THE MERCHANTS AND OTHERS, INHARITANTS OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, ISLAND OF JAMAICA.

Gentlemen: "The very kind and flattering address you did me the bonor to send to me, on the occasion of my departure from your hospitable city for my native land, has been received, and I assure you it has a wakened emotions of gratitude in my beart which I find it difficult to express.

has been received, and I assure you it has awakened emotions of gratitude in my beart which I find it difficult to express.

If the intercourse between us has been to you of the pleasant character you de-cribe, to me it has been equally so, and is the source besides, of the additional pleasure I am now experiencing, of finding that my efforts to give satisfaction have not been unavailing although our association with each other has existed for near a quarter of a century. But however inclined from disposition I may have been, to make myself agreeable to you, I should be wanting in justice to my government, were I not to acknowledge that in so doing, I have been greatly atimalisted by a desire to comply with its instructions, which have ever impressed upon its agents the propriety and advantage of cultivating friendly relations with the inhabitants of the countries to which they are sent. That I have succeeded will ever be my boast, and is as much to be attributed to the high character of those with whom I bave been living, as to the courtesy of manner upon which you have been pleased to compliment me.

With the highest respect and consideration for each and all of you, and my warmest prayers for your happiness as well as for the resuccitation of your noble island to its once prosperous condition.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen, your obedient and humble servant, (Signed.)

RECEPTION OF THE PAPAL DELEGATE

Address to the Throne of the Chamber of Representatives.

We have received Port au Prince journals up to the 21st May, 1853. From them we re translate the following ac ount of the reception, by Faustin the Great, of the apostolic delegate charged with letters and a present from the Holy Pontin. Our correspondent gave some of the particulars in his letter published in yesterday's Hen-ALD, but we prefer taking them literally as reported in the official journal. Upon the 16th inst. his Majesty the Emperer received Monseignor Vincennes Spacriapatra, Bishop of Arcadi-opolis, the apostol's delegate.

Presidents and Secretaries of the Senate and Chamber, the high dignitaries, the officers of the Imperial Staff, with Monseignor his Excellency the ex-Governor of the capital, arrived at the palace.

and stopped before the Hotel de Belgarde, to receive the Bishop as well as his cortege, and condust them to the nonneed his Majesty the Emperor.

The Emperor, dressed in a rich costume, entered the Salon de Mars, where there were ranged around the officers of the Imperial Staff.

The attendance was composed of Monseignor the Grand Ckamberlain, Monseignor the Grand Almoner, Monseignors the Ministers of War and Marine, Monseignors the Ministers of Finance and Commerce, of the Interior, of Agri-culture, of His Excellency the Chancellor, of His Exceldent and Secretaries of the Senate and Chamber, and of dent and Secretaries of the Senate and Chamber, and of the Editor of the Acts of the Government. Monsiegnor-the Duke de Tiburon, Minister of War and Marine, in charge of the portfolio of foreign affairs, presented Mon-reignor the Bishop Spacciapatra to the Emperor. The dignituries present being ranged around, Bishop Spac-ciapatra addressed the Emperor in the following terms: dignitaries present being ranged around, Bishop Spacciapatra addressed the Emperor in the following terms:—
Sire—Our Holy Father the Pope Pius the Ninth, seconding the piety and religion of your Majesty, has commissioned me as his apostolic delegate to your imperial court. Honores by this subhime and sacred mission altogether spiritual and heavenly, and unconnected with the politics of the earth, it is nearly impossible for me to declare to your Majesty the sentiments of my sire in handing to you the letters of the common Failer of all the Faithful. You will discorn is them the desires of his paternal heart, which embraces all the nations of the earth in the same love, because they all spring from the same God. The desire which your Majesty has deigned to express more than once—the happiness of your empire—that happiness which repress upon the foretriet. I desire that happiness which repress upon the closest union with the vicar of our divine Saviour, the most intimate union of Church and State. Sire, as a minister of God I admire in your person the Contantine of your people, and history will salute you as the Napoleon of the Antilles, of which your happy empire has long been the Queen. It is not that your Majesty has raised in it alters, for they exist in the eminently Catholic heart of every Halties, but your Majesty has raised in it alters, for they exist in the contentity Catholic heart of every Halties, but your Majesty has confided the helm of his Church; sod it will be this delat which will be shed over your august Majesty and over the imperial dynasty which you have founded, ene, I bear to you the blessings of the Vicar of Jesus Christ has confided the helm of his Church; sod it will be the present life and for eternity; they will open for your glorious empire a new era, which posterity will designate by the name of Faustin the Great.

Mon-eignor Bishop—His Majesty is feelingly touched with the sentiments which you have just expressed in presenting to him the letter of our Holy Father the Pepe, The Emperor will see with pleasure relations of friendship established between the courts of Rome and Hayti in the interest of our Mother the Church. His Imperial Majesty Faustin the First renews here all his sympathy to the Sovereign Pontiff Pius IX. Toyou, Monseignor, the good wishes of my sovereign.

Il Baron J. d au reconducted Monseigner Spaceiapatra to hotel, where soon after he received a visit from the Minis ter of Foreign Affairs.

Sire—As the address from the throne, which we have heard with the greatest attention, proves the Chamber of Representatives affirms, that the new order of things is pro-percus, and that peace and confidence are consolidated on all points of the empire. The country protected by Providence and directed by your noble efforts, has been replaced in that normal position which assigned its destinies. The nation, sire, is included for that happy tranquility which it epicys to day, to the indefaugable real of your Majesty, who sacrifices all his moments to the public interest. A paternal administration such as that which makes the glory of your reign—a wise and earlights ned policy—we dare to hope, will bring back into the pitcle of the country those brothers of the portion of the State, who, if they understood their own interests, would also understand that there is not for them any guarantee of future nationality possible, except in the indissoluble bond which ought always to unite the children of Hayth. The Chamber is happy to learn that your Majesty's government entertains good connections with all the powers represented in Hayti, it will receive with interest from the ministers of your Majesty the expose of the situation of the country—interior and exterior—and will always offer its frank and loyal assistance in voting measures which might be required for the strengthening of our intitutions. Sire, the Chamber presents to you, from all points of the empire, the evidence of love and sympathy of the different districts. The nation—believe it, sire—regards its august sovereign with affection; and this manifestation, expressed by the Chamber of Represents the nation, it will ever remain in a sincere understanding with the cown. It will contribute by its efforts to the happiness of the empire, by adding to render realizable the grand thoughts of progress and public well being which animate your majesty. Moved by these sentiments, the Chamber of Represents the transport of patriotism—

Vive l'Union—for ever.

Court of General Sessions.

Before Judge Beebe and Alderman Peck.

JUNE 20.—The Grand Jury could not obtain a quorum this morning till near 12 o'clock, at which time they proceeded to business. Several persons were arraigned for some very grave offences.

Grand Lavceny—A colored woman, named Elizabeth Marcus, pleaded guily to an indictment charging her with stealing a gold watch and chain from Louis Bolthora, who accompanied the woman to her residence, No. 7 Thomas street, where she, together with her husband, who was convicted on Friday for the same offence, stole the complainant's property, valued at $80. The prisoner was remanded for sentence until the next day.

Edward Morrison Joseph D. Mason, John Scarborough, George Trehen and Willism Freston pleaded guilty to an indictment found against them during the last term, for being unla wfully connected in publishing a paper called the New Fork Reporter and Banking Circular, devoted to the advertising and putting of the Delsware and Maryland lottery offices. The prisoners were remanded for sentence until Friday.

Keeping a Disorderly House.—A German, named Linden Muller, was charged with keeping a disorderly house, at No. 118 Chatham street. Several witnesses testified to the good character of the house, while Captain Breennan complained bitterly of it as a great nuisance. The defendant said he was indicted, but has conducted his place in a very orderly manner, and seems very indignant at the complaints made by the Sixth ward polloe. The jury retired for about an hour, but could not agree. They were therefore dicharged.

William Fitzpatrick was arraigned, and pleaded not quilty to an indictment charging him with killing Mary Keston. Eugene Sollomans, a youth, was arraigned for the former was remanded until this day, and the latter and the count of John Manning, at the Five Points, in May last. These prisoners not being ready for trial, the former was remanded until this day, and the latter and the count of the place of the number of his w
